

Hi there!

I'm Chloe Colbaugh (she/they), this summer's youth and ministry intern at St. Michael's. I'm a 19-year-old rising junior at Gettysburg College in Gettysburg, Pennsylvania (Go Bullets!). In my day to day during the school year, I spend my time working as an Outdoor Facilitator and educator, as well as playing local gigs with my band in town. I'm from New York City, but grew up visiting Oregon every summer. I'm more than excited to get to know and serve the St. Michael's community and its surrounding community of Portland.
